Is it really that time of month again?

Hi! I've been so busy that it's hard to believe it's really time to get this June issue ready for you. If you read the ads you will realize that I have been busy knitting. As soon as I returned from the Boston seminar I got busy working on the model garments for my "Piecework" book. I love each of those sweaters. That should have been enough knitting to keep me sated for awhile, but I looked with longing at my chunky machine, sitting there so forlorn, and started getting ideas for chunky sweaters. Thus, I am probably making a lot of you happy because of the production of the new chunky book.

Now, that's all the books I am going to do for a while. I still need to knit a few things for this newsletter, but mainly I am going to concentrate on cleaning my house and then relaxing as much as possible!

You know, I was never too crazy about chunky knits, but I like the ones I have just done. I am sure the yarns used made a big difference. I can wear the cottons now, but have to wait for cooler weather before getting the best use from most of those pullovers. Actually, though, today is May 14 and it is quite cool - 60°!

I saw a real cute peasant skirt in a Japanese book. It is knitted sideways in sections with eyelets used to seam the sections together (more "piecework", which I love). If I have time, I want to work that one out for the next issue. Don't hold me to that - I didn't promise!

In a way I wish our knitting machines didn't do so much! In my article about plating I ask how many of you use that technique and I have to admit that I have plated only once - and that was years ago. Now that I am thinking about it, that's another technique to put on my list of "things to do - soon".

I felt I needed a little break from seminars, so didn't schedule many this year. Now, I kind of wish I had more on my calendar. Although they are hard work, I sure like to meet and teach you at them. I get letters from many of you asking why I am not demonstrating at "x" seminar. I don't go if I am not invited. If you want me to come to your seminar, be sure to ask the person who is sponsoring it to ask me. I will go to all of the seminars that I can fit into my schedule and budget.

It's shortly after 2:00 P.M. and I am tired! When I feel under pressure to produce I sleep hard, but not long. Today I started work at 4:30 A.M. and have been hard at it all day. Now, I think I will wrap this up and go to the grocery store. My cupboard looks like old Mother Hubbard's! Maybe I'll even take time to watch some TV tonight.

Now it's time to relax-a-voo for a short while before starting up the mimeo. Remember to send us your original patterns. It may take awhile, but we do pay for all material used.

'Til I talk with you next month -

KIDS' TEE SHIRT

YARN - double strand of 14/2 cotton

MACHINE - any standard 200 needle

GAUGE - 8.5 sts and 12 rs = 1"
after machine washing and drying

TENSION - try 5

CHEST SIZES - 24,26,28,30,32"

This is a basic pullover, but many options are available for you to make it personal for your child. For girls: knit it in alternating stripes of 20 rows light green followed by 4 rows white throughout, except make one 20 row pink stripe in the chest area; knit it entirely in natural but accent the picot edge of the bands with a bright color (explained in the directions); instead of the picot bands use lettuce edged bands (also explained in the instructions). For boys: use alternating 20 rows of brown and 4 rows of yellow with one 20 row red stripe across the chest; make the tee in one solid color such as red but make the plain bands in 4 row green and navy stripes; knit to the sleeves with main color and make the sleeves/yoke area a contrasting color, then use the main color for the bands. These are just a few suggestions. I am sure you will think of many other ways of making each one you knit unique!

FRONT BANDS

Add the # of rows knit from above ribbing to underarm, plus # of rows knit for arm shaping plus 20 rows for ribbing:

_____ + _____ + 20 = _____ - 9.75 = _____ x 6.5 = _____.

The last number in the above line of calculations is the number of stitches you will pick up along the front for the band (same on each side).

Don't forget to put button holes in the left band. Knit 16 rows at tension 9. Hang a hem and bind off. Do the other side the same, omitting buttonholes.

RC000. Knit, decreasing 1 stitch each side of every 15th row to the desired length given below (inches include the ribbing rows, detailed later):

14" - 116 rows	17" - 146 rows
15" - 126 rows	18" - 156 rows
16" - 136 rows	19" - 166 rows.

With a garter bar, reduce to 52 stitches and knit 1 row. Transfer stitches for 3x1 mock rib or true 1x1 rib. If doing mock rib, knit the next row with ravel cord plus yarn. For mock rib knit 42 rows at tension 9 then hang a hem from the ravel cord row and bind off. If using true rib knit 20 rows at tension 3 then knit 1 row at tension 10; transfer all stitches to the main bed and cast off. Work the other sleeve the same.

BOOK REVIEWS

We have gotten behind with our book reviews, but I am sure you won't mind if we review several this month. There are so many good books on the market these days. When I first started knitting, it was quite difficult to find any books of patterns. Now, a person can build up quite an extensive library of worthwhile pattern books!

SWEATERS FOR ALL SEASONS, VOLUME I

This book by Patty Zaccagnini, 6034 Kennedy Avenue, Export, PA 15632 sells for $9.00 + $1.00 p/h. It contains nine pullovers in an assortment of styles - all attractively photographed in black and white. Styles include a split cowl with hearts fair isle, a striped fishnet lace top, a turtleneck dolman, among others. All are in teen's/women's bust sizes 28" through 44" and use readily available yarns.

The 50 page book includes detailed written instructions and diagrams with measurements (if you prefer to draw the garments for use with your charting device).

BASIC PULLOVERS for the Family for the bulky machines is by Marge Blasey, 21 3rd St. E., Ada, MN 56510. It's price is $16.00 and that includes p/h.

There are v-necks and round necks. Cables, bobbles, fair isle, lace and intarsia designs are featured, among others. The full color photographs will make your fingers itch to start knitting!

Basic, written instructions are for the long sleeved v-neck and the crew neck. Details of achieving the pattern stitches, etc. are included separately. Each size is set down separately, which will be a help to those of you who have difficulty following multi-sized instructions. Sizes included are children's 2,4,6,8,10,12 and 14; women's bust sizes 34,36,38,40,42,44 and 46; men's chests 36,38,40, 42,44,46 and 48.

SANDEE'S KWIK KNITS - BOOK 2 sells for $12.95 + $1.00 p/h.

Write to Sandra Cherry, 324 W. Main St., Mowequa, IL 62550 to order your copy.

Twenty-nine excellent sketches will give you unlimited ideas for making use of the basic patterns in the book! Looking at the sketches I see a cap sleeve top that could be used alone or as a vest, and these feature crew, vee, U and boat necklines, plus a square one. The sweaters are actually "dropped shoulder" versions. Detailed instructions for adding bands and optional sleeves are included.

Besides written instructions, diagrams are included for all sizes, so you can draw them to use with your charting device, if desired. There are instructions to make these sweaters for infants 0-12 months; children 2-14; women's busts 32-54.

If you are in the market for a basic dropped shoulder pattern, this just might be the book for you. The gauge used is 7.25 sts and 11 rs per inch.

PIECEWORK PULLOVERS PLUS

$10.00 + $1.00 p/h

"Piecework" is the name that I have given to the technique of knitting garments in sections of color. Eyelets are formed as each part of the garment is shaped and these eyelets are used to seam subsequent parts of the garment while knitting. It's fascinating fun!

Two pullovers using this technique were included in my book, "Raglans and More". If you knitted them and enjoyed the results, you will also want this collection. Even beginners will have no problem following my step-by-step instructions for the items in this new book.

To get you started, we have included two afghans, two pillow tops, a beret and a detachable collar - all in variations of the "piecework" technique. The, we have created five totally different "piecework" pullovers. Each one is a variation of the basic technique.

We also included four pullovers that are quite lovely, but which are not done using the piecework technique.

All of the fifteen items included in the book use common yarns: 2/24, Tamm Diamante, Capri and Estilo and Millor Trenzado. They can be knitted on any standard 200 needle machine. Each sweater is in sizes S,M,L and XL to fit busts from 32" to 46"!

P L A T I N G

So many of you have machines with the capability of plating. I wonder how often you use that technique? Why and when should one plate?

1) Plate when you need to stretch the usage of a needed color. Suppose you have one pound of navy 2/24, but two large people want navy pullovers. You can use the navy in the main feeder single strand and use one or two strands of nearly any other dark color in the plating feeder and still maintain the overall appearrance of a navy garment.

2) Plate when you can't afford to spend a lot for an expensive thin yarn. Use the expensive yarn in the main feeder and a cheaper yarn in a complimentary color in the plating feeder. This way, only about half the yarn used will be costly.

3) Plate a scratchy yarn. If you can't stand metallics or wools next to your skin - plate it!

4) Plate when you want subtle shading - either in stockinet or tuck stitch. The main yarn will be the pronounced color and the plating yarn will peek through.

5) Plate when you want to combine several colors, but want to avoid the "splotched" effect that usually results when several colors are being knitted through the main feeder.

6) Plate when you have just a little of a wanted color. Although 6 ounces may not make a sweater in your favorite purple shade of thin yarn, plating will let it stretch to do the job!

When sitting down at the machine to try plating for the first time it is crucial to remember that the yarn in the regular feeder is the one seen on the knit side and the yarn in the plating feeder is the one seen on the purl side. This seems backwards, but that is how it works.

Plating can be successfully used for stockinet, tuck, slip, weaving, and the background of fair isle patterns. On most machines the yarn must be broken to be removed from the plating feeder, thus stripes in which both yarn colors are changed are to be avoided. However, on my SK150 the plating yarn can slide into and out of the plating feeder.

Operating within the above guidelines, then, nearly all knitting patterns lend themselves to plating. If you haven't tried plating, do so. You may be pleasantly surprised with the results.
